+INTERNATIONAL

PRESIDENT'S, CHANCELLOR'S AND INDIGENOUS LEADERSHIP SCHOLARSHIP FINALISTS

Number: 51
Value: $1,500

The University of Ottawa offers a one-time award of $1,500 to students finishing in second, third and fourth place for the President's Scholarships, the Chancellor's Scholarships and the Indigenous Leadership Scholarship, for a total of 51 finalists. This award can be combined with other admission scholarships.

SIERRAH, THIRD YEAR

Program: Honours Bachelor of Science in Nursing
Hometown: Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia

Sierrah first heard of the Chancellor's Scholarship from her friend, who had been a runner-up for the President's Scholarship. Her friend told her that she had a decent chance and should apply so she did.

Sierrah encourages future students applying for scholarships to "take some time to think about your essays and try to pick unique stories."

For Sierrah, one of the benefits of receiving the Chancellor's Scholarship is being able to graduate debt-free: "My scholarship literally pays my full tuition. What I saved in high school working and what I make in the summers is enough for me to pay for my apartment, my food and my flights. Being able to go debt-free is very significant."

Besides the scholarship, Sierrah came to uOttawa for the city itself. Coming from a small town to Ottawa "feels like an adventure" and a path that Sierrah is very glad she took. "I absolutely love Ottawa. The canal is beautiful. There are all these really cool restaurants and the school is great."

ANGE, SECOND YEAR

Program: Honours Bachelor of Arts in Environmental Studies
Hometown: Spruce Grove, Alberta

When she was in high school, Ange loved visiting Ottawa to see her brother, a fourth-year criminology student at the University of Ottawa. She loved the bilingual vibe of the city and decided that she wanted to live and study in both English and French. When she was accepted by uOttawa, she was thrilled, and figured she had "nothing to lose" by applying for the President's Scholarship.

"The requirements seemed to potentially fit some of the work I had done in the community, and I was bilingual, so that was a big motivating factor. I had applied for many scholarships — big ones and small ones. You just have to go for it. The worst that can happen is you try and you don't get it, but the best that can happen is you apply and do and your whole degree is paid for."

She acknowledges that the COVID-19 situation put her plans to enjoy Ottawa on hold and it was "very strange" to begin her first year remotely, but she looks forward to campus life in the years ahead.

FÉLIX, THIRD YEAR

Program: Honours Bachelor of Arts in History with Minor in Lettres françaises
Hometown: Sturgeon Falls, Ontario

Félix was surprised to receive the Indigenous Leadership Scholarship, even if he met all the criteria. "I knew I was involved in my community, but I never thought I'd have the honour of receiving the scholarship!"

The help he received made his transition easier, "especially the move — it's a lot when you come from a small community." The scholarship allowed him to concentrate on his studies instead of working and brought him great "financial relief."

Félix, who's a member of the Algonquin community, is pleased with the activities available to him and likes to get involved. The scholarship has also given him the opportunity to connect with peers through the Indigenous Resource Centre.

Félix encourages future students to apply for a scholarship or bursary. "I'm happy that I applied and I'd encourage everyone to do the same!"

HOW TO APPLY FOR SCHOLARSHIPS AND BURSARIES

1

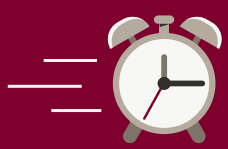
When you apply for admission, you'll receive an email with your uoAccess ID and password, allowing you to access the scholarships and bursaries portal.

2

Create your profile and use the search engine to find the scholarships and bursaries that are right for you.

3

Apply! Apply! Apply!



GOOD TO KNOW

Want to make $1,000 an hour?

Apply for scholarships and bursaries. A few hours of your time could be worth $1,000 to $5,000.

Don't wait!

You don't have to wait to receive an offer of admission before applying for a scholarship or bursary.

Don't leave money on the table

Don't overlook scholarships and bursaries that require a letter of reference, a CV, an essay or something similar. Generally, fewer students apply for them.

One financial questionnaire, many applications!

Fill out and submit the uOttawa Financial Questionnaire. It will help determine what your financial needs are. Do it just once, as completely and accurately as possible, budgeting realistically. Get your parents to help.

Don't stop at admission scholarships

You can apply for many more scholarships, either when you're admitted or, for in-course scholarships, starting August 1 (see page 13).

SCHOLARSHIPS VS BURSARIES

Scholarships are awarded based on academic excellence, although involvement in extracurricular activities or in the community may also be considered.

Bursaries are awarded based on financial need, but may also have other eligibility criteria.

MORE ADMISSION SCHOLARSHIPS AND BURSARIES

See the search engine in the scholarships and bursaries portal at uOttawa.ca/viewbook/scholarships for details.

STUDY IN FRENCH AND SAVE ON TUITION!

Did you know that full-time international students enrolled in French-language programs or in the French Immersion Stream are eligible for a Differential Tuition Fee Exemption Scholarship? This generous amount significantly reduces the cost of your studies.

For eligibility criteria, visit uOttawa.ca/viewbook/exemption.

Figures are for information purposes only and are based on the 2021–2022 school year (September to April).

FINANCIAL PLANNING CHECKLIST

FOLLOW THESE STEPS SO YOU DON'T FORGET ANYTHING!

During your application year

SEPTEMBER TO NOVEMBER

Start planning your budget

- ☐ Make a budget listing all possible expenses and ways to meet them.
- ☐ List all of your sources of income: summer or part-time job, savings, money from your parents, etc.
- ☐ Check out the bursaries and scholarships awarded automatically (pages 2 to 12) and whether you meet the eligibility criteria. If you're eligible, add them as potential sources of income.
- ☐ Estimate your living expenses using the information on the cost of university and the financial assistance available, found on pages 14 or 15.
- ☐ Set your financial goals, for example, the amount of debt per term you're comfortable with or the amount you'd like to save up for a personal project.
- ☐ Write all of this down. Download the cash-flow worksheet and use the financial planning tools on our website: u0ttawa.ca/financial-aid-awards/financial-planning

DECEMBER TO MARCH

Apply for scholarships and bursaries

- ☐ Access the scholarships and bursaries portal (you will receive your user ID once you apply to u0ttawa) and create your profile. When you enter information on your education, interests, program and financial need, the portal will show you all the scholarships and bursaries that match your profile.
- ☐ Apply for scholarships and bursaries that are not awarded automatically. You can apply for these before you are admitted.

MAY TO JUNE

Apply for government financial aid

- ☐ Learn about the financial aid programs offered by your province or territory. Check the applicable website and use the aid estimator to create your budget.

  For a list of websites, scan the QR code.

- ☐ Start the process early! Applications can take four to six weeks to process.
- ☐ Fill out the parental information section in your application for provincial/territorial aid and submit it.
- ☐ Print the consent and signature pages for you and your parents.
- ☐ Check if you must provide supporting documentation.
- ☐ Sign all sections of the consent forms.
- ☐ Mail or upload all your documentation to your provincial or territorial ministry's website.
- ☐ Fill out the online Master Student Financial Assistance Agreement (MSFAA) document for your province or territory, sign it and bring it with appropriate ID and proof of bank account information to a designated Canada Post outlet (except in Quebec).
- ☐ Enrol in courses.

During your first year at uOttawa

AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER

Check your enrolment

- ☐ Ensure that you're enrolled in all your courses. Also, keep in mind that withdrawing from courses may affect your eligibility for scholarships, bursaries, loans and financial aid that you have received.

Check that your funds have been deposited

- ☐ If you've applied early enough for scholarships, bursaries and government financial aid and have met the application deadlines, your funds should be available in time to pay for your fall tuition and fees. Normally, uOttawa scholarships and bursaries are deposited in your uOttawa account over the summer, while government financial aid is deposited at the start of the term (if you've met the deadlines).

Quebec residents

- ☐ Print your Guarantee Certificate and bring it to a bank in Quebec.

Find a job on campus through the Work-Study Program (WSP)

- ☐ Consider working part time at the University during your studies through the Work-Study Program. See page 7 on the flip side of this brochure to learn more.
- ☐ To qualify for the WSP, you must demonstrate financial need. Fill out the Financial Questionnaire, accessible in uoZone starting August 1. You don't have to receive government financial aid to be eligible.
- ☐ Starting in early August, access the Work-Study Navigator through uoZone and apply for jobs that interest you.

In-course scholarships and bursaries

- ☐ Complete a current Financial Questionnaire, if required.
- ☐ Apply online.

OCTOBER AND NOVEMBER

Plan for your Winter term

- ☐ To remain eligible for scholarships, bursaries and financial aid, you must stay enrolled and maintain satisfactory academic standing.
- ☐ Check the scholarships and bursaries portal regularly. While some scholarships and bursaries are offered on admission, others are available once you've started your studies.
- ☐ Update your income information in your provincial ministry account (if required).
