New Zealand Short Term Training Scholarships

Online Good Governance

Overview

The New Zealand Government's Manaaki New Zealand Scholarships Programme is pleased to offer new Professional Cohort Courses supported by New Zealand International Development Cooperation. These are intensive short courses designed for participants from Africa, ASEAN and Timor-Leste, Latin America and the Caribbean, and the Pacific, currently in middle and senior management positions in each of the course sectors.

The courses are:

- Good Governance
- Trade Policy
- Public Sector Leadership
- Public Health Management

Each online course is run over a four week period, consisting of two three hour sessions per week. The in person courses run from 10-4pm over two weeks. Both the online and in-person courses that will be run by the University of Auckland's Public Policy Institute. The expectation would be that scholars are available to complete the entire learning programme over the four weeks online or the two weeks in person.

The online training will allow for part-time learning, while ensuring continued scholar engagement. The in-person block will be more intensive. courses have been scheduled so as to allow an individual to enrol and participate in more than one course. The courses do not consitutute a formal tertiary qualification, but will provide scholars with unique insights into New Zealand approaches and best practice in each sectoral study area. On completion each scholar will be awarded a completion certificate from the Manaaki New Zealand Scholarships Programme.

When?

Online Good Governance for participants from Africa will start on 11 September 2023. Participants will need to be available and have suitable internet to access their online training course, and any subsequent meetings related to the course.

Africa
Good Governance (Online) 11 September to 6 October 2023

Who should attend?

These courses are suitable for officials with at least 5 years work experience in the relevant course sector. Applicants can apply for more than one course.

Presenters

The course will deliver leading expertise from the University of Auckland, including the Public Policy Institute, the School of Population Health, and the Business School. Industry experts who are considered world-class authorities will also be invited to ensure the highest quality content.

Key Learning Outcomes

Good Governance

- Critically assess the current regional context for human rights, jurisprudence, and the rule of law
- Understand and apply best practices concerning transparency, participation and gender inclusive policymaking and budgeting
- Ability to identify current practice in e-governance and service delivery, and combatting corruption
- Recognise and exercise your role as a national and regional leader in advocating for policy and law advancement and regional lesson-drawing